

INTRODUCTION

In her next life Ann Elliott wants to be either a race car driver or a photo journalist for National Geographic. She's not sure which one. However, in this life she is a leadership strategist and the founder of The Berkana Company. As a business consultant and leadership strategist Ann has twenty years experience coaching business leaders. As she puts it, "My business has three goals: to help highly successful people increase profits, improve productivity and have more fun."

She is the author of "What Successful Women Know about Leadership (Running a business in a Male Dominated Industry)," a report on women from coast to coast in leadership roles in the construction industry.

She is secretary of Capital City Rotary Club and was Rotarian of the Year in 1999. She is President of her Toastmasters Club.

Ann speaks professionally at conferences, workshops and seminars.

Ann is a native of Columbia, SC and a graduate of University of South Carolina. Her goal is to be so interesting and so much fun that her grandchildren want to take her to school for "show and tell."

Listen as Ann shares "Running Your Business on Purpose" Improve Your Results with Less Work in the Wrong Place And More Focus in the Right Place